

International Trade in Services Benefits West Virginia's Companies and Workers

IMPORTANCE OF SERVICES TO THE OVERALL U.S. ECONOMY

- The United States is the world's leading services exporting nation. International services markets offer huge opportunities for U.S. firms and their employees, accounting today for nearly one-third of total U.S. exports. Total elimination of global barriers to trade in services could raise U.S. annual income by over $450 billion or $6,830 per family of four.
- U.S. services exports have doubled over the past 10 years. The United States recorded a $66 billion surplus on exports totaling $381 billion in 2005. This surplus was 22 percent higher than in 2004. Sales through U.S. services companies operating abroad measured $477 billion in 2003. These international transactions support high-paying jobs across the United States.

IMPORTANCE OF SERVICES TO THE WEST VIRGINIA ECONOMY

- The services sector represents 62 percent of sales by West Virginia businesses, employs 66 percent of the workforce, and pays 77 percent of the state's $80 billion in wages.¹
- Services exporters in West Virginia employed over 3,900 people and generated $4.5 million in export revenues in 2002.²
- Affiliates of foreign services companies are part of this success. In 2003, companies such as Nestlé (Swiss) and Sodexo (French) had over $150 million invested in property, plants, and equipment (PPE) in West Virginia and supported over 6,200 West Virginia jobs.³
